

Welcome to Informetica's Corporate Training Library

It's no secret that it is becoming more challenging than ever to adapt to the demands of a remote and evolving workforce

Today more than ever, effective health and safety training reduces risk and increases productivity, but how do you automatically pivot to virtual training and turn a manual time-consuming training process into an automated workflow?

Informetica has partnered with the Health and Safety Institute (HSI) to offer highly regulated training titles for corporations.

HSI's on-demand courses provide training solutions for Leadership Development, Human Resources, Occupational Safety, Mine Safety, Emergency Response, CPR & First Aid, Workplace Safety, OSHA 10 & 30 and more.

Enhance your workforce with our industry-based development programs and gain measurable results.

Courses are delivered on the Informetica Learning Management System, allowing you to keep skills up-to-date at your own pace. Best of all, keeping your skills current can give you the confidence to handle any tasks that your employer expects you to perform.
